Birdsall, former employe of the newspaper, who was "convicted by general court martial of various offences," were denied by that newspaper yesterday. It asserts that the first protest it received concerning conditions in Brest was at hand eleven days before Major Birdsall sailed from Brest for America.

"The Evening Telegram" says it received its first complaint against conditions in Brest on December 24. This was signed, it says, by a group of officers just returned to America. Thereafter, it says, it received many similar complaints. Nearly a hundred men, it is asserted, have been interviewed concerning camp conditions and their treatment.

transporting them was superintended by a civilian who spoke French with an American accent and who wore a button with the letters "U. S." in his button hole.

The stolen goods, the police discovered, were put through a transforming process and were taken out through a house at 16 rue St. Victor, on the other side of the block. The trade in the stolen goods, it is said, has been brisk since last September.

Police Inspector Casel was watching the house on Monday and arrested two of the Armenians as they were loading 3,000 pounds of chocolate on trucks. Inspector Legrand joined in the investigation and found that the trail of the robbers led to the American warehouses. The police then arrested Sergeant Maurice Meyers, of Boston, and Sergeant Andrew Gleason, of New York. The soldiers denied all knowledge of the thefts.

Although announcement from the committee said that the seniority selections were tentative, committee members explained that the decision virtually was final, although the selections must be approved by the party conference.

Harmony marked the meeting, there being no division between the members who supported Representative Mann, of Illinois, for Speaker in the recent contest against Representative Gillett, of Massachusetts. Mr. Mann was selected temporary chairman without objection. Representative Moore, of Indiana, was chosen secretary, and Representative Johnson, of South Dakota, assistant secretary.

Wealthy Business Man Is Public Charge in Asylum

Louis Wolfsheim, manufacturer of jewelry cases, owning real and personal property valued at $201,052, has been a public charge in the Manhattan State Hospital since last January. This situation was called to the attention of Justice Erlanger in the Supreme Court yesterday by the Attorney General. He asked for appointment of a committee of Wolfsheim's property, that it might be applied to his maintenance, if he is kept in the institution. Dr. M. B. Heyman, superintendent of the hospital, asked that Mrs. Sophie Wolfsheim, of 789 West End Avenue, wife of Mr. Wolfsheim, be appointed as committee. Mrs. Wolfsheim joined in this request and her two daughters consented.

Justice Erlanger took the matter under advisement. "I am at a loss to understand why a citizen of wealth should be confined in an institution conducted at the expense of the state." he said. "Nor am I satisfied with the legal proof that the committee suggested is competent to take care of the property, a large part of which consists of an interest in a copartnership of which the alleged incompetent is a member."
